DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

Claims 1-2 and 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rasanen (US 6,415,527). The claims are reasonably and broadly construed, in light of the accompanying specification, to be disclosed in Rasanen as comprising:

a cylindrical rotatable drum 11 provided with a steam pipe system 12 comprising a heat transfer element 17, to be rotated with the drum, the heat transfer element being detachable from and mountable on the drum (please see column 4 line 10), whereby material to be dried is fed to a first end of the drying apparatus as disclosed on page 4 lines 4-20 of that reference, the material being arranged to be discharged through a second end of the drying apparatus, wherein the heat transfer element is formed as a uniform packet of several longitudinal pipes 12a, 12a' arranged in an axial direction of the cylindrical rotatable drum and connecting pipes between them in such a way that the structure of the heat transfer element is self-supported by a support structure 13, 14 coupled to the longitudinal pipes and the support structure and is attached to the drum frame with fastening that allows heat expansion (please see column 4 line 42 for the heat expansion teaching. Rasanen also discloses the claimed feature wherein the heat transfer element is formed as a sector-shaped packet 28 in such a way that the heat transfer element several longitudinal pipes at the edges of the element and of connecting pipes connecting them together as shown in figure 1, wherein there is a steam pressure vessel at the end of the drum of the steam drier and at least one steam manifold at the end of the heat transfer element, and the steam manifold is connected to the steam pressure vessel with a connecting pipe 18 wherein the diameter of the steam pressure vessel extends to the area of the heat transfer elements as shown in figure 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Claims 3-4 and 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rasanen in view of Asman (US 4,417,661). Rasanen discloses the claimed invention as rejected above, except for the claimed abrasion resistant plate and protection plate. Asman, another drying apparatus, discloses an abrasion resistant plate and protection plate at column 2 line 54 through column 4 line 68. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the teachings of Rasanen with the abrasion resistant plate and protection plate, as disclosed in Asman, for the purpose of minimizing wear and damage to a drying apparatus during operations and intended uses in the field of drying.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
